INVESTMENT PROCESS AND SUSTAINABILITY EXPOSURE

INVESTMENT PROCESS

I The team applies a fundamental, research driven approach to identify investments in companies with disruptive, market driven solutions to global sustainability challenges, and seeks to consider ESG related factors as part of the investment process.

I Unsubsidised Cost of Energy, 2020 ($,MWh)

Solar	$31 - $42
Wind	$26 - $54
Coal	$65 - $159
Gas	$44 - $73

An energy transformation is being led by solar and wind as they overtake fossil fuels on a cost basis.¹ Summit believe this will lead to secular growth opportunities.

I Idea Generation and Thesis Development

Process designed to:

- Identify a large Total Addressable Market ("TAM")
- Identify thematic opportunities with secular tailwinds: EV, Rooftop Solar, Batteries
- Understand drivers of disruption

Investment Evaluation

Seeks to:

- Seeks to develop a differentiated view on the market structure and competitive landscape
- Aims to identify most attractive business models in the space
- Fundamental, bottom-up analysis aimed at identifying a non- consensus view

Investment Selection

Designed to consider:

- Thesis-based valuation
- Risk / reward supported analysis
- Evaluation of position sizing

Past performance is no guide to future performance and the value of investments and income from them can fall as well as rise.

SUSTAINABILITY THEMES – LONG BOOK

I Rapid Transformation of the Legacy Energy Structure

The energy space is at a tipping point right now. Today solar and wind are cost competitive with fossil fuels. The cost of battery storage is also more attractive every year.

This is why the Strategy seeks investments in Renewable Energy in Infrastructure, Technology and Financing.

The above shows a representative portfolio for illustrative purposes only. Source: Google Images Sources: Google Images, Lazard (https://www.lazard.com/media/451419/lazards-levelized-cost-of-energy-version-140.pdf), sourced as of 31.03.2021

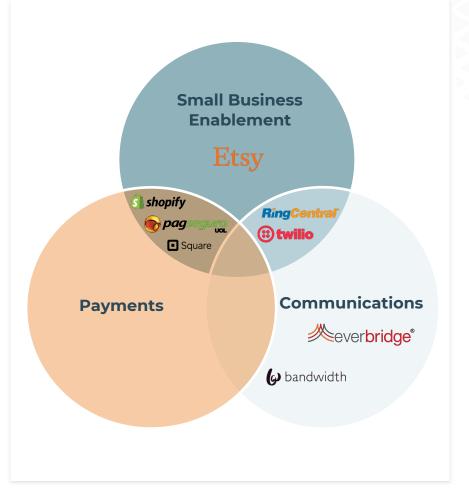

CLOUD BASED SOFTWARE: DISRUPTION IN THE TECHNOLOGY SECTOR

I Cloud Solutions for a Changing Marketplace

The Strategy identifies several overlapping opportunities in the technology sector that it believes are providing essential services in disruptive spaces. Mainly cloud-based names, these are inherently low-carbon and are designed to improve efficiency in the market.

- Small Business Enablement Technologies that enable individuals and small firms to manage and grow their businesses
- Communications Companies disrupting the legacy telecom model with new offerings and multimodal approaches
- Payments Novel approaches to payments that connect merchants and clients, facilitate commerce, and bring banking to the under- and un-banked

SUSTAINABLE DISRUPTION Themes – SHORT BOOK

SHORTING DISRUPTION

I The Disrupted Companies and Industries

| Melting Icebergs

- Legacy businesses focused on keeping market share
- Slow to negative growth, focused on cost reduction
- Under-investing in R&D
- Levered balance sheet to increase near term returns
- Longer duration shorts
- Generally these disrupted companies and industries comprise 50% to 70% of short book

Fifth Avenue Traffic, Easter 1903

Horse shoes and buggy whips

Case Study

The Funds' short position in a leading turbocharger manufacturer with a high mix of EU class 3–8 diesel trucks provides an example of a disrupted incumbent.

- Turbochargers are frequently paired with diesel truck engines
- Diesel trucks are facing increased regulation in Europe
- The company is investing in the development of electric vehicle ("EV") drive-train components, but they are facing significant challenges:
 - A competitive EV component market
 - Fewer parts in the EV drivetrain
 - Peer competition
 - Limited transferable R&D knowledge
- The company is facing two material headwinds:
 - a downturn in its core turbocharger component business
 - and increasingly material investments and a growing cost structure in the crowded EV market.

SHORTING DISRUPTION

The Failed Disrupters

| Failed Disrupters

- Innovation focused businesses that fail to gain a leadership role
- Technology 'not-quite' leaders
- Balance sheet and or management challenged young companies
- Typically higher multiple, more speculative
- Generally these failed disrupters comprise 30% to 50% of short book

Fifth Avenue Traffic, Easter 1913

51 different auto manufacturers in 1913

Case Study

The Funds' short position in a 3D printing company illustrates the difficulties innovation-focused companies face in a rapidly evolving market.

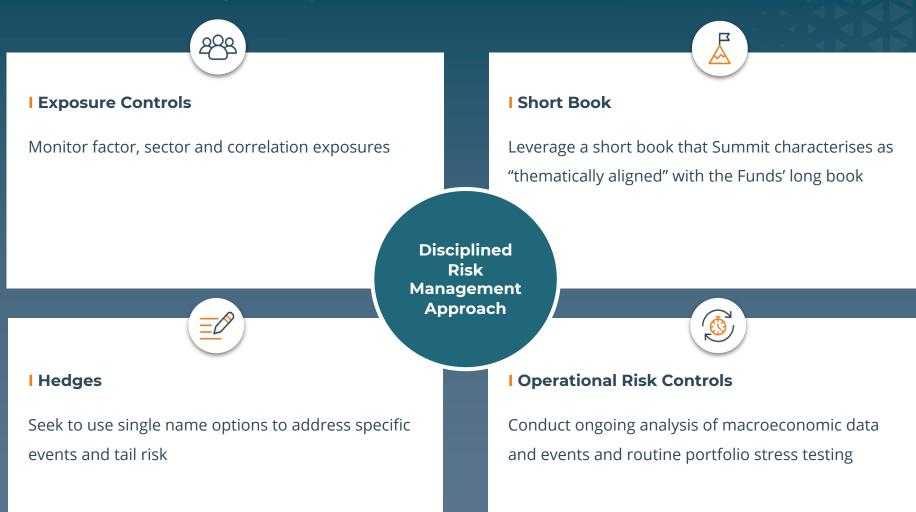

- By leveraging the insights of our private market colleagues at Summit Partners, we were able to identify a promising, rapidly growing private company which operated as a direct competitor to a public 3D printing company.
- The private company offered a 3D printing solution that was beginning to compete on pricing and positioning of the public company's core product.
- We initiated a short position in the public company and maintained our conviction through adverse moves in the stock price.
- Over time, the Funds' short position in this company benefitted from several earnings misses and decreases in earnings guidance.

RISK MANAGEMENT AND GUIDELINES

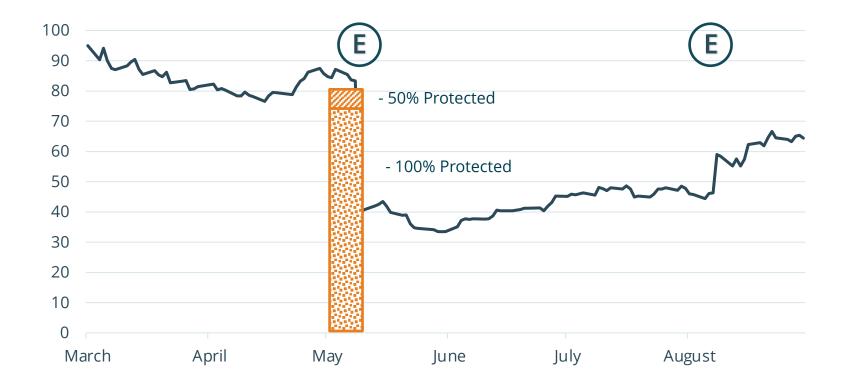

RISK MANAGEMENT

I Summit's multi-layered, comprehensive risk management approach seeks to provide downside protection and to manage volatility

LEVERAGING OPTIONS – SAMPLE USE

- The UCITS Fund may use options as a hedging technique. This may include buying calls/puts as upside/downside protection on shorts/longs based on technical discipline, or hedging against events. Summit believe this approach allows for both alpha generation and the ability to actively manage volatility relative to the broader market.
- In this example, a short-duration hedge was used to protect an investment going into earnings. Significant downside losses were mitigated when the option was executed.

SUSTAINABILITY FOCUS

I UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

• Summit examines its portfolio's alignment with the UN Sustainable Development Goals. Most frequently its investments show exposure to the below 5 goals. Summit believes that the UN SDGs are aligned with the SPSO's sustainability thesis and provide useful targets for the companies in which the strategy invests.

Summit's investments often demonstrate impact across multiple goals, for example a software company that creates programs for waste-water management would show impact in Clean Water and Sanitation and Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure.

I The Portfolio Manager views sustainably-oriented businesses as companies offering lower environmental impact or less resource intensive products or services than existing incumbents

Core Sustainability	Companies for which sustainability-oriented solutions are the principle business, generating more than 50% of TTM revenues Renewables, EVs, Water, LEDs, Batteries	Opportunistic Core Holdings Sustainability 32% 29%
Peripheral Solutions	Peripheral holdings are companies that in SPPAM's determination generate a meaningful, measurable amount of their revenues from an obvious sustainably oriented activity and include businesses in the renewable energy generation, electric vehicles or LED lighting sectors, among other sectors Industrials, Consumer Staples & Discretionary, Materials, Health Care
Opportunistic Holdings	Includes a broad group of companies any of which may not be associated with a specific sustainability product or service Low carbon emission names including cloud and communications software and e-commerce	Peripheral Solutions 39%

I The Investment Manager may sell short securities of companies they believes may be susceptible to the impact of sustainability driven disruption. These may include securities of companies that are deemed to be sustainably oriented and securities of companies that do not fall into a sustainability category

PERFORMANCE – SUMMIT PARTNERS SUSTAINABLE OPPORTUNITIES L/S FUNDS ("SPSO FUNDS")

The following performance data shown is for the Summit Partners Sustainable Opportunities L/S Funds. The SPSO Funds have the same Portfolio Manager and investment team, the same investment objective and uses the same philosophy and strategy as the UCITS Fund. Summit manages the UCITS Fund according to the same investment principles, philosophy and execution of approach as those used for the SPSO Funds, however it should be noted that due to certain factors including, but not limited to, differences in cash flows, fees, expenses, performance calculation methods, and portfolio sizes and composition, there may be variances between the investment returns demonstrated by each portfolio in the future.

The SPSO Funds' performance results are presented in U.S. dollars. All gross returns are shown net of a 1.5% management fee, brokerage fee and other fund expenses. All net returns are shown net of a 1.5% management fee, 20% performance fee (subject to a high water mark), brokerage fee and other fund expenses. Performance for the SPSO Funds is based on the principle of asset-weighted returns. For each underlying Fund, returns used are those of the highest fee-paying new issue income eligible model investor and have been calculated as the change in value of an investment made at the beginning of the period, adjusted for capital contributions and withdrawals during the period, using time-weighted total rates of return. Subscriptions are permitted at the beginning of each calendar month and redemptions are permitted at the end of each calendar quarter. Returns by Fund will vary due in part to differences in income received pursuant to a class action settlement, expenses or taxes. Fees and expenses associated with individual share classes of the Fund may be higher or lower than those reflected due to the characteristics of those share classes and hence individual returns will differ from the reported figures herein.

The returns presented assume the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings. Thus, no representation is being made that an investor's account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those shown. Past performance is not a guarantee of or necessarily indicative of future results. Year-to-Date returns should be viewed as preliminary and used for informational purposes only. Returns have the potential to be adjusted until reviewed and finalized following the final computation of monthly NAVs and/or the completion of the annual audit and changes to data would be made without any notification. The reader should not rely on this information for investment purposes. Monthly returns are rounded and estimated. No representation is made on its accuracy or completeness of the information contained herein.
